Shower Honors Arrowwood Girl

A miscellaneous bridal shower honoring Miss Nellie Salter of Arrowwood, was held recently at the home of Mrs. P. G. Lucas, when Mrs. Morley Mellon and Mrs. Allen Wylie were hostesses.

Some 20 neighbors and friends were gathered and a most pleasant social afternoon enjoyed. A beautifully decorated basket piled high with useful and lovely gifts was brought into the room by the two hostesses, and Mrs. Mellon expressed the good wishes of all, in making the presentation.

Assisting the guest of honor in opening the many attractively wrapped parcels was her cousin, Mrs. Ed Arnold and Mrs. George Hutton.

The serving of a delicious lunch by the hostesses and the gracious expression of thanks by the bride-to-be, brought the happy occasion to a close.

Official Addresses Large Gathering

Urges Greater Support For Red Cross Society

A single blood transfusion would cost a patient at least $25.00 in Canada today if the Red Cross Society's Blood Transfusion Service did not make it possible to provide this service free, said Gordon Shave, Red Cross official from Calgary, when he addressed about 100 persons at the Canadian Legion hall last Friday evening.

It costs the Red Cross $6.00 to supply free one pint of blood, but countless lives have already been saved by the blood transfusion service made available. Plasma is kept on hand at the hospitals for urgent cases and whole blood is rushed from Calgary whenever needed.

Mr. Shave urged his listeners to support the local branch of the Red Cross Society and to give as generously as possible to the annual national appeal of the Society, which opens this month.

The Red Cross is spending each year in Alberta far more than it collects in Alberta, the speaker said, one of the major items of expense being the upkeep and operation of the Crippled Children's Hospital in Calgary, which admits children only from this province.

Alberta should be able to support its own program of Red Cross work and greater financial aid was needed if the many services of the Red Cross were to be kept at their present high standard and not curtailed.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. John Mitchell, president of the Vulcan branch of the Red Cross Society.

Those present played bridge and whist for two hours prior to Mr. Shave's address and, earlier in the evening, were entertained by two recitations given by Mrs. Ray Flitton. High prize for bridge was won by Mrs. W. H. Richardson and for whist by Jack McIntosh.

Convenor of the enjoyable evening was Mrs. A. R. Mainland and a delicious lunch was served at 11 p.m.

Make Final Check On Gas Air-mix Plant and System

Final check of Vulcan's new gas air-mix plant and 25,000-gallon storage tank was started Tuesday morning by Harold Ames, of Centra, Illinois, supervising field engineer for Drake and Townsend Incorporated, New York propane designers and consulting engineers.

Mr. Ames flew to Calgary over the weekend from Anderson, South Carolina, where he was installing a gas air-mix plant for a new fiber-glass factory built by Owens Corning. He was driven to Vulcan Monday afternoon by J. M. Pryde, president of the contracting firm which made the installations for Central Gas Utilities (Vulcan) Limited.

Checking the tank, gas air-mix units and training local personnel would take about a week, Mr. Ames stated Monday in Calgary. He was being met Tuesday in Vulcan by Edgar C. Robinson, President of the Vulcan gas company, who discussed gas problems with the Magrath town council Monday night.

While there were always elements of danger in dealing with any unit of energy, there was no danger if proper care was taken in installing and maintaining a gas air-mix plant such as the Vulcan system, Mr. Ames pointed out.

While he had been associated with gas utilities for 18 years, the last 12 years he had been specializing on various phases of the propane gas business, Mr. Ames said. Since 1938 it had been growing in importance and usefulness to hundreds of smaller communities throughout the continent, he stated.

During Mr. Ames' work on the storage tank and gas air-mix units, some local consumers will be tied into the system on a trial basis, although official opening ceremonies will not be held until the testing period has been completed. Date of the official opening, when all consumers will be able to have outlets hooked up with the mains, will be announced soon, Mr. Robinson told the Advocate.

J. L. Findlay Named President

Review Year's Activities Of Local Board of Trade

At the annual luncheon meeting of the Vulcan District Board of Trade, held in the I.O.O.F. hall Monday, March 3, a review of the activities of the Board during the year 1951 was given by J. L. Findlay, secretary during that period.

The Board of Trade had a membership of 86 in 1951, said Mr. Findlay, and its activities were directed towards furthering the interest of both townspeople and farmers.

The hard-surfacing of highways No. 23 and 24 had been urged upon Hon. Gordon Taylor, Minister of Telephones and Roads, at a meeting in Lethbridge. Mr. Taylor had stated at that time that this route "was definitely on the program for hard-surfacing but would not give any indication of what year this might be done, stating that hard-surfacing of east-west routes was receiving priority at the present time.

The Board sponsored a very successful farm tillage demonstration during the year and this was so well received that a similar demonstration for this year was being considered.

The Board had requested 32 directional road signs from the A.M. A. and these had been received in January and would be erected when the ground thawed.

In November the Board sponsored a dinner meeting, at which a speaker outlined the purpose and objects of Civil Defence.

Protest Duck Damage

On behalf of the farmers of the district, a resolution was sent to the authorities at Ottawa asking for relaxation of duck shooting restrictions in order that crops still on the ground could be protected as best possible from the ravages of mallards, of which there were still tens of thousands in the district late in the year. This was done in November. Shooting restrictions were not eased, but the Wildlife Service offered to send an official into this area to study the situation.

Mr. Findlay reported that this offer had been accepted and that Dr. A. W. Banfield and J. B. Gollop of the Wildlife Service would be in Vulcan Tuesday afternoon, March 4, and a public meeting would be held at that time. It was regrettable that sufficient time had not been given to properly advertise the meeting, but it was hoped to have a good representation of farmers from the areas which suffered heavily from duck damage last year. (Editor's Note: A report of this meeting is given elsewhere on this page.)

Natural Gas

The Board of Trade had recommended to the Town of Vulcan that Central Gas Utilities Ltd. be authorized to install a propane air-mix plant and gas distribution system in the town. This had been done, and official opening of the gas system was scheduled for this month. The Board has also investigated the possibilities of getting natural gas for the town and had been assured by authorities in Edmonton that if a gas export line from Edmonton to Lethbridge and out to the west coast is authorized the policy would be that towns on the gas line route would be served with natural gas from the pipeline.

Officers Elected

Officers of the Board of Trade for the year 1952 were elected as follows: J. Lundy Findlay, president; Boyd McKay, first vice-president; William Munro, second vice-president. Board of Directors: Allan Fisher, Brown McDonald, Harry Douglas, A. A. Giles, Ross Walker and Bruce Roe. Immediate past president J. M. Jamison will also be a member of the executive. The secretary will be appointed later.

The luncheon was attended by over 100 and Mayor W. D. Allan of the Town of Vulcan extended a welcome. Speakers for the annual two-day, short course were guests at the luncheon.

The excellent meal was catered by the ladies of the Red Cross Social Club, and the thanks of the gathering was extended to them.

with 13 members present. It was decided to hold a Saint Patrick's Tea and sale of home cooking on Friday, March 14, starting at 3 p.m. in the Legion Hall. Being no other business of importance, the meeting adjourned. The hostesses, Mrs. S. Brown and Mrs. B. Gooch, served a lovely lunch.

Bowling Prizes Are Awarded

The end of the regular bowling league schedule saw trophies awarded to the men's and ladies' best "high three" score during the season. Those placing second are also given.

Emil Olson, 265-265-170, for a score of 700.

Gwen Lawson, 160-267-177, for a score of 604.

Mrs. Olson, 166-136-226, for a score of 573.

George Murray, 233-173-220, for a score of 626.

Mossleigh High School Curlers Welcomed Home

The parents and a large crowd of Mossleigh supporters were at the Calgary airport at 10 p.m. on Saturday, Feb. 23 to give a vociferous welcome to the Alberta High School Curling champions, Larry Androsch, Don Green, Jimmie Gillanders and Bruce Gateman and their escort Ed Lindberg who arrived at that time from Moncton, N.B., where they had competed in the Dominion finals. The curlers had made a very good showing in the playoffs, as well as making a host of friends for themselves and for Alberta.

The team expressed its appreciation to Taylor, Pearson and Carlson Ltd. for so generously sponsoring them on such a wonderful trip east. The Mossleigh Curling Club and people of the district helped defray Mr. Lindberg's expenses.

On Wednesday evening, February 27, the Alberta High School curling champions and Mr. Lindberg were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Daub of Daub's Coffee Shop, Mossleigh, at a sumptuous steak dinner with all the fixings plus a thumping big dessert of strawberry short cake smothered in real whipped cream. Fortunately, there were no curling games billed for the boys that evening; they could not have bent over to pick up a rock, no less sweep one.

Elks' Annual Carnival To Be Held March 14th and 15th

Postponed from last fall because of adverse weather and harvesting conditions, the annual Elks' carnival will be staged here the weekend of March 14-15 in the Vulcan Armouries.

All the favorite carnival games and attractions will be held as usual in the spacious Armouries and part of the large main hall will be used for dancing each of the two evenings.

A feature of the two-day carnival will be the drawing, each evening, of tickets on four door prizes, which are now on display at the Vulcan Supply Co. Tickets will be drawn every hour on the hour and holders of the winning tickets must be present to receive their prizes. The grand prize of a chesterfield suite will be drawn for Saturday night and the winning ticket-holder need not be present to gain this prize. The suite is now on display at the Vulcan Furniture.

G. V. Atkinson will be carnival manager this year and G. E. Clayton will be secretary. All proceeds of the carnival will go towards the upkeep of the Elks Memorial Park.

Mrs. Morrison, assisted by Mrs. W. Shields, served a delicious lunch, to close a pleasant and profitable afternoon.

Wildlife Service Officials Here

No Satisfactory Method Controlling Duck Damage

"If you can't keep ducks off our fields, tell us how to destroy them." That statement, voiced by a district farmer, seemed to express the sentiments of the more than 100 grain-growers who attended a meeting held in the I.O.O.F. hall here Tuesday afternoon to discuss the duck situation with Dominion Wildlife Service officials.

Present at the meeting were J. Banfield, of Saskatoon, Wildlife Management Officer of the Dept. of Resources and Development; and Dr. F. Banfield, head of the Canadian Wildlife Service at Banff. Chairman of the meeting was J. L. Findlay, president of the Vulcan District Board of Trade.

Dr. Banfield stated that the Wildlife Service is fully aware of the damage being done to crops by ducks in various sections of the prairies and that every effort is being made to find a solution to the problem. One man, Mr. Gollop, is employed full time on this problem, with additional personnel also seeking ways and means of at least minimizing the damage done by the migratory flocks of mallards and pintails.

Farmers in the areas suffering duck damage have come to regard ducks as the same type of pest as grasshoppers or gophers but should realize that others, in areas not so affected, regard ducks as a great natural asset of Canada. Their value in attracting hunters and tourists to Canada must be considered, the speaker said.

Dr. Banfield assured the meeting that shooting permits, for keeping ducks off grain fields, could be secured by farmers and their helpers at any time of the year.

In his remarks, Mr. Gollop said the Wildlife Service had arranged this visit to Vulcan to find out if duck damage was suffered every year in this area, to suggest what methods of control they knew of, and to find out if local farmers had themselves found any way of controlling or minimizing the crop damage due to ducks.

He outlined methods of control being used in the States and other parts of Canada, but quite candidly admitted that none of them had proved very effective. Control of ducks came under three headings, he said: 1) Scaring, 2) Feeding, 3) Method of farming.

Scaring ducks off fields is the most widely used and at times is effective. Scarecrows are of some help if put up in fields immediately after cutting and will usually keep the ducks off for at least a few days. Searchlights, used at night, have proven as good as anything but are of no help in stopping the ducks from feeding during the day. Mechanical noise-making devices are not predictable... they have been found effective in some areas and absolutely useless in other areas.

Artificial feeding is only effective when a lake or river is the only roosting area and the ducks are sure to stop there. When there are many sloughs or dams in the area the feeding plan does not work. Planes have been used in attempts to herd ducks to refuges, but this has not proven very satisfactory, for, as the speaker said, "Ducks can fly rings around an airplane."

Changing the method of farming has not helped to any extent, Mr. Gollop said. It was thought that stooking and strip farming had helped in some areas, but not only was stooking an expensive and out-dated method of harvesting in wheat country—it has been found that ducks will damage stooks almost as much as they do swaths. Strip farming had proved to be of no help.

Mr. Gollop emphasized his desire to learn of any methods local farmers had used. Methods used here, of scarecrows and shooting, have proven ineffective he was told. Local farmers emphasized that although the problem was greatest in 1951 it was not confined to that year alone, but dates back as far as 1927, with damage varying every year depending on how early the harvest can be finished. Date of harvesting, of course, depends on the weather and no method of controlling the weather has yet been found, either.

Due to harvesting conditions, which left tens of thousands of acres of swathed grain on the ground last fall, mallards passing through this area stayed weeks longer than usual and, using Lake McGregor as a roosting spot, fed on fields in about a 25-mile radius from the lake. Instances were given of yields being cut from 47 to 12 bushels per acre after being descended upon by thousands upon thousands of ducks, from 35 to 5 bushels per acre and of fields, boasting good crops, that were not worth harvesting after being visited by the ducks.

Ducks Unlimited were "blasted" by several farmers for that organization's efforts to increase the duck population, although it was explained that Ducks Unlimited had only constructed about 200 dams, while the 40,000 dams built by P.F.R.A. also served as breeding grounds for the ducks. In response to a suggestion that revenue from hunting licences be used to pay farmers for duck damage, it was stated that the total revenue for a year from this source, in Canada, would not pay for the duck damage in Vulcan maker "by Miss Priscilla Mewha, District Home Economist of Calgary.

Tuesday's program in the men's section was of particular interest to farmers of this area. Mr. Cheshire discussed "The Use of Electricity on the Farm," and Mr. Michael gave a talk on "Dangerous Weeds in the County of Vulcan." A discussion on the "Work of Service Boards in Alberta" was led by Mr. Wilson.

In Tuesday's ladies' section, P. D. Hargrave, superintendent of the Brooks Horticultural Station, gave a talk on "Home Plants." A film, "Designing Women," was shown and the discussion led by Miss Mary Smart, District Home Economist of Lethbridge. C. A. Cheshire spoke on "Making Electricity Work for You."

Whereas there is untold damage done to crops by ducks each year in the prairie provinces, "Therefore be it resolved that the government of Canada sponsor a duck extermination program and, failing that, an adequate insurance program be set up by the federal government to compensate the farmers for their loss."

Colder temperatures prevailed last week and the early part of this week, with night-time lows of about 10 below zero. Skies were clear on Wednesday and the mercury climbed to 30 above, with milder weather promised.

WHEAT POOL RESERVE PURCHASE

The Alberta Wheat Pool announced Feb. 18 that it had mailed cheques totalling about $900,000 to 20,000 Pool members. This payment is part of $1,040,000 allocated from last year's earnings to the redemption of reserves contributed by members in the 1923-28 period.

Reserves are being redeemed from estates of deceased members, from members who have gone out of farming and sold their land, and from members 65 years of age or over who are farming or in possession of farm land who were contract signers during the period 1923-28.

In addition, a rateable purchase is being made from all original contract signers of 35 per cent of the commercial and elevator reserves standing to their credit as of February 15, 1952.

When this distribution is completed total purchases of reserves will have amounted to $6,900,000, leaving about $1,500,000 outstanding in the hands of the original members. Out of the total reserves purchased, $6,000,000 worth have been reissued in the form of patronage dividends to member patrons since the year 1940. The ownership of the Alberta Wheat Pool and Pool Elevators rests with the reserves. Through this process, the control of the Alberta Wheat Pool is being kept in the hands of operating farmers.
